CCLI Song # 7125442

1 The Lord is patient with mankind despite their bold transgressions;
They, since the Fall, have never ceased insulting His perfections.
His patience, from of old,
Displays His self-control,
But His restraint will ceaseâ€”
His wrath will be released;
The Day of Judgment hastens.

2 The Lord has patiently endured, delaying condemnation
To show His justice when the Son made full propitiation.
The Holy One endured
Man's scorn in deed and word;
His patience with our sin
Leads us to turn to Him
And find Him gently waiting.

3 The Lord will not be slow to keep the promise of His presence,
Though now He waits for all His own to turn in true repentance.
Since Jesus patiently
Endured hostility,
In struggle and in pain,
Steadfast we will remain
And wait for His appearing.
